

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election does not, as they are required by law, serve the public interest unless they give Sen. Kerry equal time by airing "Going Upriver", as well. This is a prime example of how large companies control what we, the public, get to see. It seems that, by encouraging this system, the FCC is corroding our democracy.

Thank you.